

Virtual Type Academy Program:

APPLICATIONS OF THE SURVIVAL STRATEGIES MODEL

By Eve Delunas, PhD
Author of Survival Games Personalities Play
Hosted by Susan Nash
Founder of the Type Academy

Each of the four temperaments—the Improviser (SP), Stabilizer (SJ), Theorist (NT), and Catalyst (NF) is prone to utilizing different survival strategies in times of extreme stress. While these defensive behaviors are initially a means of coping with difficult circumstances, over time they can become more harmful than helpful. In this unique program, you will learn how to:

- Recognize the full range of survival strategies typically associated with each temperament—from mild to extreme;
- Identify those key stressors which are most likely to trigger each temperament to engage in these maladaptive behaviors;
- Employ practical, realistic, and effective solutions for resolving individual and interpersonal difficulties in clinical, coaching, and organizational settings.

Here is an opportunity to attend the most comprehensive and in-depth program ever offered on this topic!

“The Survival Strategies Virtual Type Academy programme is an absolute must if you are interested in developing your knowledge of Type. The material is relevant and useful in coaching conversations and to have as a reference point for personal development work done with individuals and teams.”

About the Modules:

This eight-week program consists of four, two-week modules. During the first week of each module you will be given access to a prerecorded 90 minute session with Dr. Eve Delunas, providing an in-depth analysis of one of the four survival strategies. Each of these four training sessions will be available for review at your convenience:

Module One: The Improviser (SP) survival strategy of Blackmail
Module Two: The Stabilizer (SJ) survival strategy of Complain
Module Three: The Theorist (NT) survival strategy of Avoidance
Module Four: The Catalyst (NF) survival strategy of Masquerade

During the second week of each module, you will have the opportunity to attend a live, virtual question and answer discussion session with Eve and Susan. For those who miss any of the live sessions, recordings will be posted in a private member area for review.

Course Schedule:

Module One: The Blackmail Strategy—March 19 to March 28, 2018
Module Two: The Complain Strategy—April 2 to April 11, 2018
Module Three: The Avoidance Strategy—April 16 to April 25, 2018
Module Four: The Masquerade Strategy—April 30 to May 8, 2018

Please note: Let us know if you would like recommendations for reference materials on Temperament for pre-reading.

Certificates of Completion will be available for participants upon completion of a written Knowledge Check.

About the Trainer:

Eve Delunas, PhD, LMFT has been applying psychological type theory to catalyze positive changes in clinical and organizational settings for forty years. She is recognized internationally for her work on the relationship between personality and dysfunctional behavior, as presented in her book, Survival Games Personalities Play. Eve first became interested in type and temperament as a student of David Keirsey and Marilyn Bates, while pursuing her Masters degree in Counseling. She went on to work with David Keirsey for ten years.

Eve's newest book, New Science, New Brain, New You, presents methods for reconfiguring our brain's learned default settings to move out of the "survival mode." In addition to offering workshops internationally, Eve has been an instructor of Graduate Counseling at five universities. Recently, as a Collegiate Professor for the University of Maryland, European Division, she was the recipient of an award for Excellence in Teaching.
